RABBI'S FORUM

Rabbi Anthony Fratello

Throughout the centuries, Jews have frequently been referred to as "People of the Book." Anyone who knows anything about the Jewish Community would probably agree that this is a fitting sobriquet. We owe our daily study and observance to Torah. But then again, not just Torah. The other books by Rabbis and Scholars. And then again, not just works by Rabbis and Scholars. Jews historically have been a well read people. It is one of the reasons why we have flourished historically; we have put a great deal of emphasis on study.

It is our commitment to the ideas found in books that make some of the changes that have happened in Florida over the last few years difficult. As it stands today, there are now hundreds of different works that have been banned in different places in the Sunshine State. Among those on the list are: Anne Frank: Diary of a Young Girl, The Kite Runner, and V for Vendetta. Authors whose works have been banned include: Ta-Nehisi Coates, Jodi Picoult, Toni Morrison, even Judy Blume. Overwhelmingly, the books that have been banned are by minority authors, or touch on themes relevant to minority or underrepresented communities.

All of this is particularly poignant as over the centuries, we as a people have been victimized for our love of the Book. Whether it was Torah, or other ideas written and promulgated by Jewish Thinkers, we often live and die by the printed page. We are ultimately bound by the now romantic idea of binding our lives to ideas that one believes in.

Let us take some time to explore this idea.

I am happy to announce that on May 25 (Erev Shavuot) at 7:00 PM, Rabbi Andrew Rosenkranz from Temple Beth Torah and I, are going to present an Erev Shavuot Study Program entitled: Book Banning: What Does Judaism Teach About Censorship? It is our hope to not only spur serious discussion and reflection, but also to galvanize our will to not allow important ideas to be kept out of light.

Please join us.

Book Banning: What Does Judaism Teach About Censorship?

In Jewish tradition, one studies on the evening of Shavuot.

Join Rabbi Anthony Fratello and Rabbi Andrew Rosenkranz at Temple Shaarei Shalom as they discuss this important topic.

From our President

As we approach the end of the school year and the beginning of summer, it's hard to believe that we're already halfway through 2023. Time seems to be flying by, and with each passing month, our community grows stronger and more vibrant.

This past month, we celebrated Yom HaShoah, Yom Hazikaron and Yom Ha'atzmaut, three important days in the Jewish calendar that remind us of the resilience and perseverance of the Jewish people. On Yom HaShoah, we paid tribute to the six million Jews who were murdered during the Holocaust, Yom Hazikaron we remember Israel's fallen soldiers as well as Israeli victims of terror and on Yom Ha'atzmaut, we celebrated the establishment of the State of Israel.

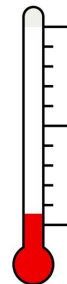

Looking ahead, May is a month of renewal and growth. In the Jewish tradition, we celebrate the holiday of Shavuot, which commemorates the giving of the Torah at Mount Sinai. It is a time when we reflect on our values and our commitment to living a meaningful and purposeful life. As we prepare to celebrate Shavuot, I am reminded of the important work that we do as a community to ensure that our traditions and values are passed down from generation to generation.

One of the most important ways that we do this is through our education programs. Our religious school is thriving, with dedicated teachers and enthusiastic students who are eager to learn and grow. We are also proud to offer adult education programs. These programs provide a space for our community to come together, learn, and deepen our understanding of Judaism.

Another way that we are building community is through our social justice initiatives. This past month, we donated food for Passover, had our Good Deeds Day and we have plans for additional projects in the coming months. Our commitment to tikkun olam, or repairing the world, is at the core of our values, and we are proud to be a congregation that prioritizes social justice.

As we enter the month of May, I am filled with a sense of gratitude for the wonderful community that we have built together. From our religious services to our social justice initiatives, we are a congregation that is dedicated to living our values and making a difference in the world. I am honored to serve as your President, and I look forward to continuing to work together to build a strong and vibrant community.

Wishing everyone a happy and meaningful Shavuot

Education Update

Lisa Tenenbaum, RJE

As we come to the end of this school year, I wanted to share some of the highlights of our program. Please take a look at the photo collage, and you will see the happy faces of our children, teens, and families at various events throughout the year.

It is also a good time to review the different Jewish values that our children have learned; so that you can continue to discuss them together. The word value in Hebrew is middah, which means measure, so the challenge is to exercise the right amount of these values in our lives:

Teshuvah means repentance. In Judaism, it is the idea that we can ask for forgiveness but that we must also try to fix our mistakes and be sure not to repeat them. It also reminds us that we should be forgiving of others. It is easy to be forgiving when we remember the value of B'tzelem Elohim, that we are all created in the image of G-d. This means that we all possess some of the attributes of G-d: kindness, generosity, and mercy. We must use these attributes to always strive to be the best person we can be.

Gevurah means inner strength. Inner strength is about being brave, trying new things, standing up for what is right, and being resilient when things do not go as planned. This value is so important for our children today as it will be crucial for their future success. Having inner strength leads to taking responsibility, or Achrayut, another important value. When our children are younger, we give them small chores at home. As students, they learn to complete assignments. Throughout our lives, we assume responsibilities to accomplish goals and reach milestones. As our children mature and become Jewish adults, these two values will help them to have the strength to stand up for the Jewish community and take responsibility for the Jewish people.

Koach Hadibbur means the strength of our words. As children we hear, "Sticks and stones...but words can never hurt me!" This is not true. Words can harm, and in today's society we see that all too often. However, words also have the power to heal, and to make change! Therefore, we must always try to use our words to teach and guide, cheer and encourage: to stand up and defend, to pray, rejoice and celebrate!

Finally, Hakarat Hatov means to recognize the good and to be grateful. How important is it for all of us to see all of the wonderful things we have in our lives and to literally count our blessings; to concentrate on the good, even while dealing with disappointments and difficulties, no matter how challenging. If we manage to do that, then we can arrive at a place of wholeness, or peace, Shalom, which is our final value. All of these values work together, and if we do our best to strengthen these values in our lives, and help our children to do the same; I know that we will all help to create a better world, to do tikkun olam.

I hope you will encourage any friends and family that are not members to join us at our Open House in August! Or, have them call me for more info! Wishing you all a very happy and healthy summer.

PTO

In sum, being President of the Temple Shaarei Shalom Parent Teacher Organization meant a lot. It's been a whirlwind year full of ups and downs and it's been a privilege to act as TSS PTO President including celebrating holidays and B'nei mitzvahs with a wonderful bunch of women, their families and the TSS Community. Plus the PTO Challah Bake and Bingo, learning what was going on with the Religious School and acting as a TSS board member representing PTO, raising funds for PTO, and recruiting volunteers to keep PTO going next year. Participating in PTO has made our family's Religious School years extra special and pass by quickly, even with the Covid-19 pandemic and all that's going on in the world today. Thank you and good luck next year to the incoming PTO board.

Sincerely,
Elisabeth Porter

From the Board Room

March 2023

TSS has signed a three-year contract with Cantor Carrie Barry. She and her family will be arriving from Jacksonville, Jul 1. To offset the cost of moving, travel, etc., the Board approved a Fun Fund-Raiser...an opportunity for the congregation to participate in bringing Cantor Barry here. The Congregation will be offered the chance to cover the costs by contributing $20 per mile towards the journey.

You might note a change in the lights in the parking lot. We now have LED bulbs in the fixtures, brightening things up a good deal. Jewish Family Service provided these.

The Board accepted the recommendations of the Nominating Committee (chaired by Past President, Lisa Cuthbertson). You will receive the ballot prior to the Annual Meeting on May 16th (ballots will also be available at the Annual Meeting to permit you to vote in person). The nominees were sent to the congregation via email.

Our security service for the coming year will be provided by Uniform Security, a company that has worked well with TSS in the past.

To help us plan for Fiscal contingencies, a Fund-Raising Committee is being established, to be chaired by VP John Sudenfield. Members will include Board, Auxiliary representatives, and congregants. A Long-Term Fund-Raising Plan will be presented to the Board at its July meeting.

Israel Matters

In recent months we have heard disturbing news coming from Israel: civil unrest, terrorist attacks and deadly floods. Still, we engaged in joyous celebration of the modern State of Israel's 75th Independence Day. Let's continue to focus on the positive and on the many accomplishments Israel brings to the world.

David Ben Gurion once remarked, "The difficult we do immediately. The impossible takes a little longer." You'll see the truth in that statement when you consider just a few of Israel's remarkable innovations.

Think about Mobileye, an Israeli security company whose mantra is "sensing the future." Its technology allowed a tiny camera to be placed in cars to alert drivers to potential hazards, such as pedestrians in the roadway or the driver steering out of lane. Today, more than 25 global automakers use Mobileye technology to reduce accidents and save lives.

How about SniffPhone? It's a diagnostic tool that can literally sniff out disease and is an advancement on "NaNose"—technology developed in Israel—that can detect the symptomatic odors caused by some malignant tumors, Parkinson's dementia and multiple sclerosis among other diseases. The SniffPhone, which will become commercial in 4-6 years, will make that technology accessible through a plug-in attached to a smartphone.

Redefine Meat is an Israeli startup that has made an impossible idea a reality. Recognizing meat's impact on climate change and sustainability, this company has created the first 3D printed plant based steak—now distributed in more than 500 restaurants and butcher shops in Israel, Berlin, Amsterdam and London.

Let's end on a sweet note: BeeFree honey. A team of 12 students from the Technion—Israel Institute of Technology has developed a bee-free honey produced by a bacterium that "learns" to make honey following reprogramming in a lab. This is one answer to the effects of the decline in the global bee population.

Your Israel Committee urges you to take pride in these contributions and the hundreds of others that Israel has generated to improve our lives and solve 21st century problems. We urge you to stand with Israel in these difficult times---and if you can, STAND IN ISRAEL.
