RABBI'S FORUM

Rabbi Anthony Fratello, MAHL

We had an open house on August 13, which was wonderful. We had about two-dozen interested families come and spend some time learning about the Shaarei Shalom Community and getting to know some of our members. In the crowd were a handful of people who had visited or worshipped with us before, and there were also people who had never stepped foot in the synagogue before. We had older individuals, and we had younger parents raising Jewish Children. As I am sure you can imagine, the interest ran the gamut: there were those who wanted opportunities to pray, there were those who wanted opportunities to learn, and still others who just wanted a place to belong.

If you are reading these words, think back to that time when YOU were a prospective new member. We probably had a chance to sit and talk, and no doubt I asked the regular kinds of questions I like to ask new members. Where are you from? What kind of work do you do/did you do? What are you looking for in a new congregational home?

I was most impressed with one of the younger attendees at the Open House, someone who will hopefully one day stand on our Bema becoming an Adult in the Jewish Community. When asked about their background, this young person said, simply, "I am a human being!"

I am a human being! What a wonderful, and critically important statement.

So often we get caught up in who we are: young or old, rich, or poor, learned, or unlettered, that we fail to see and understand who our fellow travelers on the road of life may be. We know all too well how this happens outside of these walls, far too often it happens inside these walls too! I myself am guilty of it; just reread how I described the people who came to our open house. Sure, we are all of these different things, but at the end of the day, we are also all the same. We are all human beings created—as we are taught by our tradition—in the image of God. This is how we start.

No doubt by now you have heard some of the news I have let slip about these High Holidays. I encourage you to come and listen. On Rosh Hashanah I have something that I want to give you. And, on Yom Kippur, I've got something that I have to ask you. The future of this community hinges on the answers.

One of the most groundbreaking archaeological discoveries in the past few decades is found in southeastern Turkey at a site called Gobekli Tepe. Its massive carved stones are about 11,000 years old, predating Stonehenge by six millennia. Constructed by prehistoric people who had not yet developed metal tools or even pottery, Gobekli Tepe may be the site of the world's oldest temple.

The discovery has shaken a long-held belief that such structures only came after humans learned to farm and settled in communities, assuming that, only then, would they have the time and resources. But the archaeologist who led the excavation at Gobekli Tepe argued it may have been the other way around, suggesting that perhaps it was the coordinated effort of building which led to the development of complex societies.

Torah teaches us that after delivering the Ten Commandments to the Israelites at Mount Sinai, God continues to reveal the Torah directly to Moses. Among God's earliest instructions are the words "V'asu li mikdash v'shachanti b'tocham," commonly translated as "Build Me a sanctuary so that I may dwell among them" (Exodus 25:8).

The first mikdash was temporary, accompanying the Israelites on their journey through the wilderness. Once in the Promised Land, altars were built at multiple sites until a couple hundred years later when worship became centralized at the Temple in Jerusalem. When the Romans destroyed the Temple in the first century, the Jewish people, exiled from their land and spread out across the Roman Empire and beyond, were forced to find new ways to worship the One and Only God. Synagogues, houses of meeting, study and prayer became the new normal. This verse from Exodus may have been an inspiration to our early rabbis. God did not tell Moses to build "the Temple" (Beit HaMikdash), but rather a "mikdash," a tabernacle, or sanctuary. No particular location. Just build one, so that the people will gather together and become a community.

As we prepare for the holidays, it may help to take a closer look at the last word of our Torah verse; b'tocham, so often translated as "among them," may also be translated as "within them." That is the key: it is not the building, or the sanctuary, or the tickets or the ushers. It is you. It is me. It's all of us. God dwells within each of us as long as we make the space, and when we gather together as a sacred community, how much more so do we experience God's strength and light.

I look forward to seeing you over the coming weeks as we celebrate our New Year and all that comes with it. May this New Year bring us joy and inspiration as we continue the sacred work of building together.

From our President

Jay Levine

As the High Holidays approach and 5783 draws to a close, Stephanie and I want to extend our warmest greetings to each and every one of you. The month of September not only marks the beginning of autumn (and hopefully cooler weather) but also ushers in a time of reflection, renewal, and unity within our cherished community.

TSS has always been a place of open hearts, open minds, and open doors. This year, as we come together to celebrate Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, let us embrace the opportunity for spiritual growth and reconnection. These holy days remind us of the importance of introspection, forgiveness, and the chance to start anew. Just as the shofar's sound stirs our souls, let it awaken within us a commitment to better ourselves and our world.

As we gather for services and gatherings, both in person and virtually, let us remember that our congregation is not merely a building, but a family. Together, we share joys and sorrows, celebrate milestones, and uphold one another in times of need. Let us extend our hands to those who are seeking solace, friendship, or a connection to their heritage.

Looking ahead, TSS has exciting plans for the coming year. From educational programs that deepen our understanding of Jewish traditions to social initiatives that give back to the wider community, there are countless opportunities for us to make a positive impact together.

I invite you all to join us in the spirit of collaboration and enthusiasm. Let us make this new year a time of growth, both individually and as a congregation. Our collective journey will be guided by the principles of compassion, justice, and the enduring values that have defined us for generations.

May this September be the beginning of a year filled with blessings, unity, and a deepened sense of purpose. On behalf of the Board, I extend my heartfelt wishes for a meaningful and transformative High Holiday season.

From the Board Room

August 2023

Rabbi Fratello noted that he has been actively engaging with various groups in TSS to share his BUILDING UP proposal. Response has been positive...but, as he says, "Now the real work begins."

Cantor Barry shared details of the re-shaped Family Service, each of which will have a theme. Please join in this experience on the second Friday of each month. It matters that our congregational family worships together and shares in the joy of Shabbat together.

The URJ's Religious Action Center (RAC) is locally led and works with Reform congregations and communities to build a more just and compassionate Florida. To this end, there is a Reproductive Freedom Campaign seeking to gather petition signatures throughout the state to assure a Reproductive Freedom amendment on the 2024 ballot. The Board endorses this initiative, and a committee is being created to enable us to support this effort. Please contact Jay if you can participate.

The Board approved a clarification of Committee and Auxiliary responsibilities and will soon be implementing a Strategic Planning calendar of programs.

Kudos to Lisa Tenenbaum and Caryn Feldman for facilitating a successful Open House...and to the staff, Board members, Youth Group, and others who lent their support.

The Board approved a new Gatekeeper category of $500 to permit more members to enhance their dues payment and support their temple.

B'nei Mitzvah fees have not been increased in many years. The Board approved increasing the fee to $1500, beginning with the incoming 5th graders.

Finally, the Board approved opening Religious School Grades 2 & 3 to non-members (new families only) for the 2023-2024 school year.

Torah Portion: Ki Tavo

My Bat Mitzvah project: My mitzvah project was, and continues to be, feeding and making lunches for the homeless. I decided to start doing this two years ago. My mom and I were driving home and there were so many homeless and hungry people on the streets begging for food and money. This made me really sad seeing that people have to live like this, uncared for, hungry, thirsty, and tired. I realized I wanted to make a difference for these people so someday, no one will have to live like this. I started making full lunches for the soup kitchen near my house. It made me feel really good that, even though I couldn't help everyone suffering, I still helped some people. I am going to continue doing this after my Bat Mitzvah because it makes me happy to help other people and make them happy.

ISRAEL MATTERS

The poet David Shimoni once wrote, “From each Jewish heart an invisible path leads to the land of Israel.” That line holds especially true for many of us at Temple Shaarei Shalom. As we approach the start of a new year on the Jewish calendar, this moment seems appropriate to introduce (or reintroduce) you to one of the synagogue’s most vital groups: The Israel Committee.

Who we are...

... a group of your friends, neighbors, and fellow congregants who have come together because of our love for Israel.

What we do...

.... partner with all groups within the synagogue and larger community who wish to celebrate the modern State of Israel and its many accomplishments. We offer and promote educational/cultural programming that accurately portray Israel, its history, and its importance to Diaspora Jews. We welcome the expression of all viewpoints that support Israel’s right to exist in peace and security within the world community.

Last year we co-sponsored several events with Adult Learning, the Ritual Committee, the Sisterhood, and the Men’s Club to celebrate Israel’s 75th year of Independence. You may remember our informative discussion of the Shalom Hartman Institute course entitled Why Israel? Revisiting the Meaning of Zionism, our Sunday breakfast and program “Faces of the Machal” and our special Yom Ha’Atzmaut Shabbat service.

YOU CAN HELP TOO!

- ♦ Check out our monthly “Israel Matters” column in News and Views, watch for timely emails, and pickup informational handouts placed at the front of the synagogue.
- ♦ TSS Members please attend one of our monthly meetings and contribute ideas for programming.

BROTHERHOOD

The Brotherhood of TSS is planning a great 2023-2024 season. We have again joined the national organization, Men of Reform Judaism. We feel this membership is quite advantageous because MRJ offers a variety of benefits for us. For example, MRJ offers us many suggestions for programs and activities, actively supports Hillel Clubs on college campuses across America, and has a biennial convention which we hope to attend in order to obtain even more new ideas. We are anxious to work with MRJ in the near future as part of our commitment to the Reform movement in America.

Our first event of the season is Scotch in the Sukkah, Thursday, Oct. 5th at 7:00PM with Rabbi Fratello. This is a paid up member event, free to Brotherhood members and their families. Otherwise, the cost is $5.00/person. We will meet in the Temple's Sukkah, weather permitting, or move indoors if necessary. Enjoy some nice spirits and great conversation with Rabbi Fratello and Brotherhood members. If you are not a TSS Brotherhood member, you may join us at this event for the membership annual fee, $40.00. All are welcome and bring a friend!

Brotherhood is also planning a Veterans' Day program. More information will follow.

If you have not yet signed up for our Brotherhood cruise there is still room available. The 10 day cruise on Celebrity Reflections leaves on Saturday, December 9, from Port Everglades. We visit the ABC islands and Grand Cayman Island. Contact Stan Hulkower or Steve Katz for more information.

Mark the date, Friday, Feb. 23, 2024, 7:30 PM, for Shabbat Service Honoring our Brotherhood. We will be participating with honors and speaking parts throughout the entire service. Brotherhood will also sponsor a delicious Oneg after the service. We will be reaching out in the near future to our approximately 100 members to ask for their support and participation for this very meaningful event.

We are planning other events as well. This includes guest speakers on such topics as medical marijuana, bitcoin investments and anti-Semitism presented by the Anti-Defamation League. We are planning a program by the League of Women Voters on the crucial 2024 elections.

Stay tuned for more information on all upcoming events. If you have any questions and suggestions for future events, feel free to contact any one of the members of the Brotherhood Executive Committee:

LET'S DO LUNCH AGAIN

Dear Sisters,

By this time, we will have had our “Let’s do lunch” at Ocean One on July 20. This event was such a success that we are planning another one on September 21. Look for an email with time and location.

Once again sisterhood is proud to be a co-sponsor for the High Holy Day Quartet that adds such a unique quality to our worship.

And please do not forget our ongoing birthday wishes program and submit your list to Barbara Weiss so we can give birthday wishes to our Sisterhood members.

Sisterhood also acknowledges members that are ill and condolence notes to our members who have lost loved ones.

If you have not seen her before, do not miss Jeanne Lynne Grey at our October Lunch and Program on Thursday October 19th at 11:30 am.

We are also beginning preparations for our Women's Seder featuring Rabbi Joanna Tract and Cantor Carrie Barry, watch for details.

Remember, your Sisterhood membership and support make it possible to provide financial support to the Temple, like the quartet. Donations into the Sisterhood Scholarship helps ensure all of our TSS children receive a Jewish education. Thank you for all your support.

Sisterhood is not just Thursdays.
